

Quilldex

Free industry benchmarking analysis tool

Access our range of data charts depicting instruction volumes by specialism to gain accurate insight into sector activity, pinpoint a return to near-normal market levels, benchmark your practice performance and identify commonality in experience with your counterparts.

Quilldex calculates the daily number of new matter openings across our client base relative to benchmarks of daily new matter openings throughout January 2020. Matters are automatically categorised to a case type in order to facilitate a picture of change at a case type level. Quilldex is monitoring our entire client base which encompasses a pool of over 7,000 legal professionals.

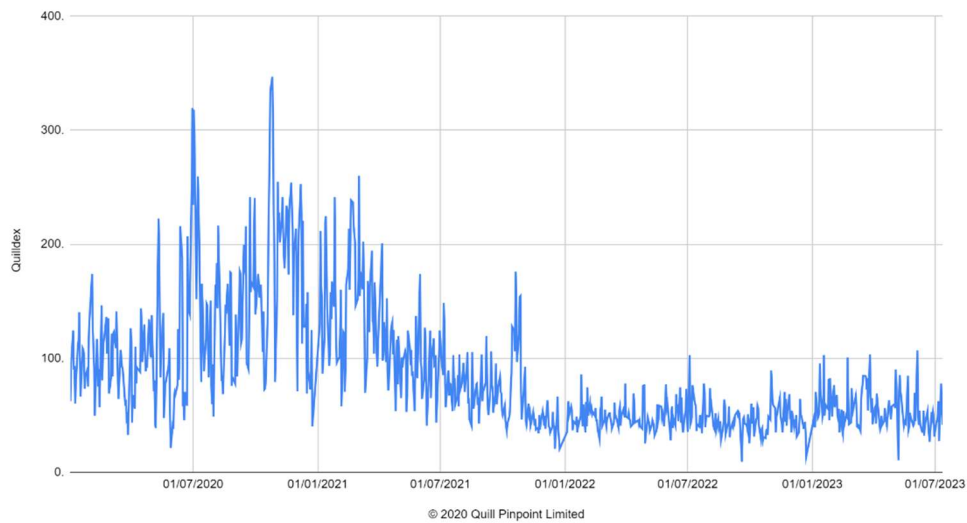

Please note that Quilldex was last updated on 13th July 2023.
